GUSTAF & LINNEA

Handmade by a beekeeping family on the Swedish island of Gotland

From the beehives of Gotland

Gustaf & Linnea is a beekeeping family on Gotland, Sweden's largest island, out in the Baltic Sea. They make every product by hand from their own Swedish beeswax, and they only take the wax the bees don't need to thrive. Each lip balm is the result of about 125,000 flowers visited by pollinators, and it comes in a paper tube that can be recycled when it's empty. Every lip balm, classic and Moomin, is packed on its own hang-card, so it is easy to display on a peg or hook.

Gustaf & Linnea also make a Moomin series: the same organic lip balms and balms, dressed in artwork of Moominmamma, Little My, Snufkin and friends, plus Moomin beeswax wraps for the kitchen. Shown side by side with the classic line, it appeals to Moomin fans and natural-skincare shoppers alike.
