

The infrastructure layer for the future creator economy.

A production-ready, all-in-one social ecosystem engineered for content convergence, community ownership, and native monetization.

The current creator economy is fundamentally fragmented.

Creators are forced to split their content, audiences, and monetization across disconnected platforms.

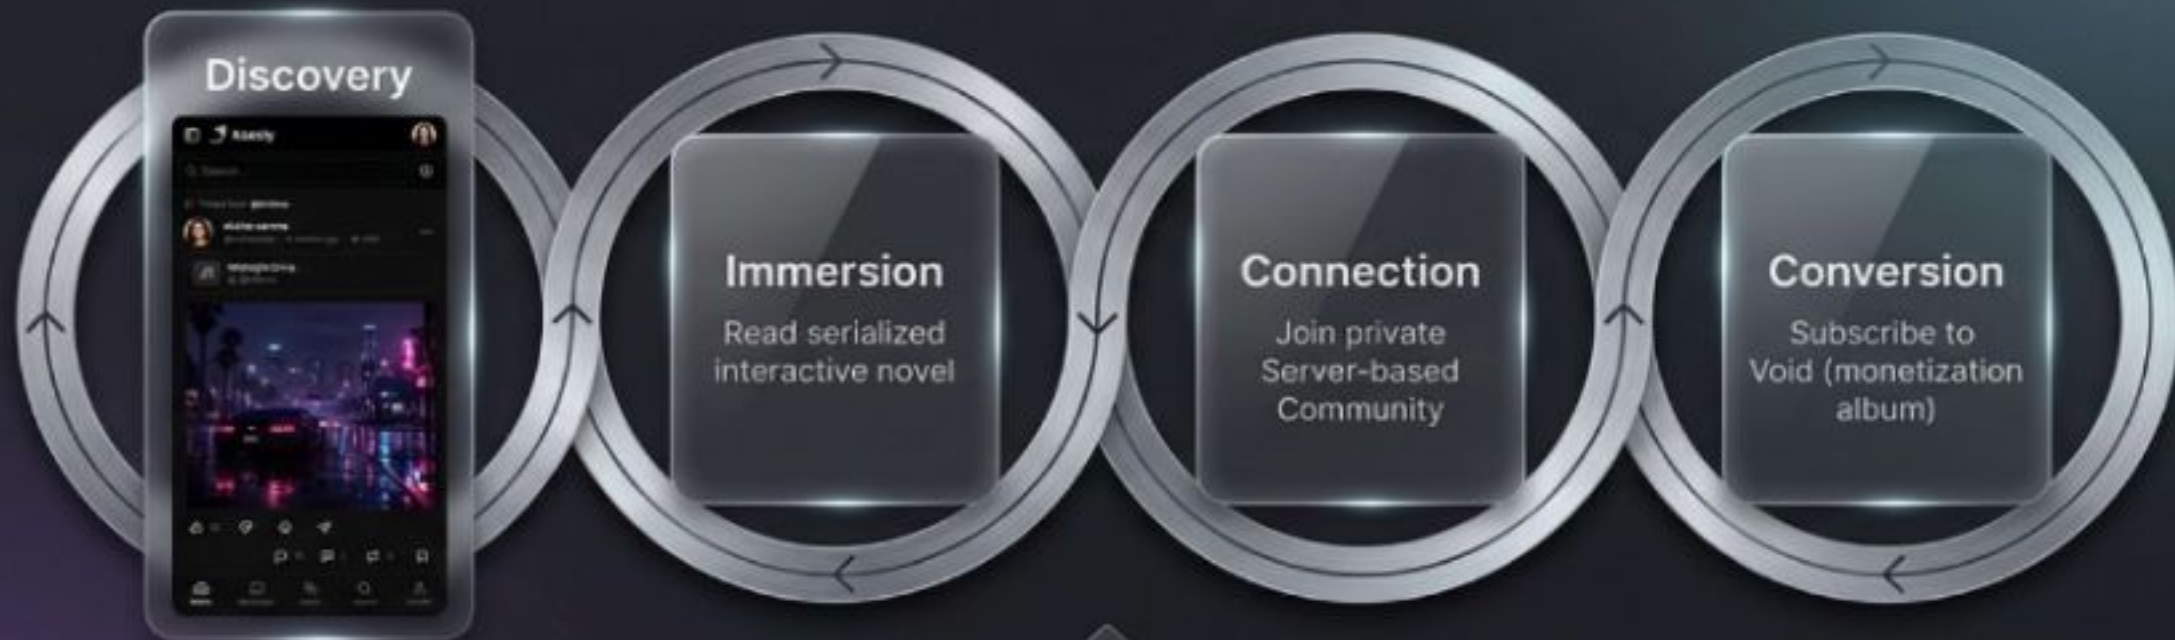

This causes massive audience leakage, weak monetization conversion, platform dependency, and a total loss of direct community ownership.

India's first creator-first integrated social ecosystem.

To our knowledge, KAOSLY is the first platform to completely unify publishing, engagement, monetization, audience retention, and community ownership into a single ecosystem.

Ecosystem convergence drives unparalleled audience retention

Users now expect content, communication, and monetization to exist together. This architecture ensures creators no longer depend on multiple external platforms to build scalable careers.

Aura transforms long-form text into immersive interactive universes.

Server-based architecture embedded inside a social network.

True audience ownership requires direct communication without algorithmic interference.

Communities: Telegram/Discord-inspired communication systems with public/private groups, channels, and heavy creator moderation tools.

Direct Messaging: Real-time DMs with integrated payment requests (transferring Coins directly in-chat) and seamless content forwarding.

Discovery engines engineered for multi-format creators.

A unified space for visual and auditory discovery, feeding directly into deeper creator funnels.

Drifts & Reels:

24-hour stories (polls, quizzes, AMAs) and short-form video feeds.

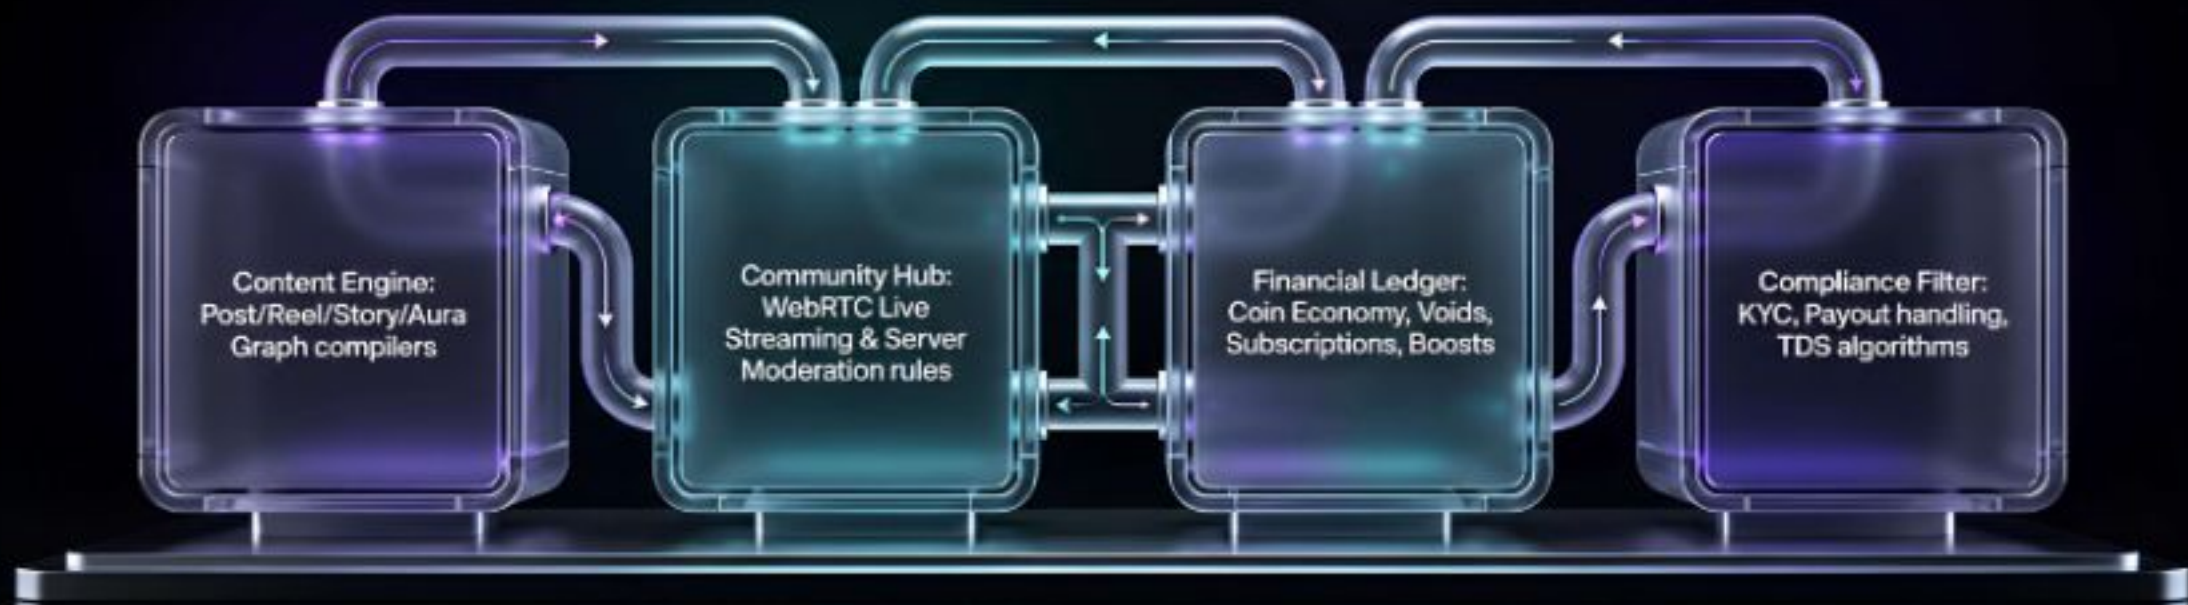

Tunes:

Native audio publishing where creators upload and publish audio tracks available to attach to Reels.

Audio Rooms:

Live audio broadcasting and listening capabilities natively integrated.

Built from day one as scalable creator economy infrastructure.

The platform architecture is deeply structured far beyond a traditional MVP. Monetization is not an afterthought; it is baked into the foundation.

The Monetization Circuit: Aligning platform growth with creator wealth.

Total Platform Revenue = ₹14.50 per 10-coin cycle.
A sustainable, scalable transaction fee ecosystem.

Enterprise-grade financial compliance is our deepest moat.

Most social startups fail due to weak monetization planning and regulatory blind spots. KAOSLY is heavily engineered for compliance.

Identity: Automated PAN/UPI/Bank verification via Cashfree.

Taxation: Automated TDS deduction structures (e.g., deducting 10% u/s 194J when FY earnings cross ₹50,000).

Accounting: Automated generation of Form 16A and Form 26Q data.

Security: Immutable financial history and audit logs tracking the transaction lifecycle.

The Market Vacuum: No existing platform integrates the full stack.

Competitors specialize in isolated verticals. KAOSLY captures the entire ecosystem.

The hard part is over. The ecosystem is already built.

KAOSLY is not an idea-stage concept. We are transitioning from the development stage to the operational scaling stage.

The Catalyst: 6000000 rupees to scale an operational reality.

6000000

rupees (INR)

= 62,158.45 USD

KAOSLY is raising exactly 6000000 rupees to scale operational infrastructure and market presence. This raise is not intended to validate the idea.

Use of Funds

App management & bug resolution systems

Scaling accounting & financial payout operations

Advertisement, growth team, and creator onboarding

User support and moderation expansion

The future of the creator economy has already arrived.

KAOSLY is not another reels app, another messaging tool, or another blogging platform. It is a completely integrated infrastructure designed to evolve beyond social media into a full creator economy fintech and commerce layer.
