Company Overview

Alltees Enterprises is a garment manufacturing company based in Kanpur, Uttar Pradesh, India, operating under the brand name ZUVO wear. The company focuses on custom apparel production for institutional buyers, wholesalers, distributors, and export-oriented B2B clients.

The profile structure used here follows widely used company profile components such as company overview, products and services, operational strengths, mission, and contact information. Export-oriented company profiles also typically highlight production capacity, buyer suitability, and logistics readiness.

Business Identity.

- Company Name: Alltees Enterprises
- Brand Name: ZUVO wear your confidence
- Location: Kanpur, Uttar Pradesh, India
- Business Type: Garment Manufacturer and B2B Supplier
- Industry Focus: Custom apparel, uniforms, sportswear, and textile supply

About the Company.

Alltees Enterprises provides customized garment manufacturing solutions for businesses and institutions that require dependable production, practical coordination, and product consistency. The business serves buyers looking for school uniforms, cricket jerseys, t-shirts, and wholesale linen products in bulk quantities.

Operations are managed with a focus on order planning, product customization, and timely dispatch preparation. The company is positioned to support domestic B2B supply while building readiness for export and long-term institutional partnerships.

Products and Services

The company offers a focused range of textile and apparel products designed for bulk buyers and repeat-order customers.

- School uniforms
- Cricket jerseys
- T-shirts and promotional garments
- Wholesale linen products
- Custom garment manufacturing
- Bulk order execution
- Fabric sourcing support based on buyer requirements

Manufacturing Capability

Alltees Enterprises operates with core garment production machinery including overlock, flatlock, and single needle machines. The current production setup supports an estimated daily output of approximately 40 pieces across custom apparel categories.

Production activity includes cutting, stitching, inspection, packing, and dispatch preparation. A strong B2B supplier profile benefits from clearly presenting manufacturing capability and production structure for buyer confidence.

Quality Standards

The company follows a quality-focused production approach to improve consistency and reduce product issues before dispatch. Quality attention areas include fabric suitability, stitch quality, measurement accuracy, color fastness, and shrinkage control. This approach is important for institutional and export buyers, who typically assess reliability through operational discipline, product consistency, and quality control visibility

B2B Sales Capability.

Alltees Enterprises is structured to serve buyers who need custom manufacturing support rather than only ready-made inventory. The company is suitable for institutions, distributors, uniform programs, traders, and brands seeking private-label or custom-branded production.

Key B2B strengths include:

- Customization for order-specific requirements
- Bulk and repeat-order handling
- Practical production planning and order coordination
- Focus on delivery discipline and client communication
- Suitability for long-term supply relationships

Export Readiness

Export company profiles are most effective when they present company identity, product categories, trade suitability, and logistics support in a clear, professional format
