

Sugar Solid Colours

Colour is a key element in the design of any interior because it can influence our mood and convey precise sensations and messages. Working in close cooperation with trend forecasters, the Strawberry department has developed a range of ten solid colours capable of meeting all design needs and catering for key colour trends.

Warm Colours

According to colour psychology, warm tones convey sensations of vitality, energy and dynamism, largely positive emotions that suggest action and movement.

Cold Colours

Cold colours are associated with sensations of tranquility, calm, meditation and freshness. In some cases they may even lower the perceived temperature of a room.
