Importance of Discipline in School and Strict Compliance with School Rules.
ntcsr2/9/2661peng

Dear Parents,

Deen is a complete system of obedience and accountability, through which discipline naturally develops in every aspect of life." Salah (Namaz) teaches us punctuality, order, and self-control. When our faith teaches us discipline throughout life, the same discipline must be followed in matters related to school rules and our children's education. If we ourselves cannot follow school rules, do not value time, and do not remain disciplined, then how can we expect our children to learn discipline? It is not reasonable to expect discipline from children when we ourselves are undisciplined.

It is a proven fact that no school can function properly without discipline. Discipline is the foundation of education. Just as a heartbeat is essential for life, discipline is essential for children's education and their future. English Express "The Exceptional School" is committed not only to academic learning, but also to develop discipline, responsibility, and good behaviour in every child.

We sincerely thank those parents who understand school rules and follow them responsibly—sending their children to school on time, ensuring proper school uniform, supervising homework, and respecting the school system. The cooperation of such parents is extremely valuable for the school, and disciplined students along with their parents will be encouraged and appreciated by the school from time to time.

It is very important to clearly restate that all school rules:

- are clearly mentioned on the school website,
- are explained at the time of filling the admission form, and
- are properly informed before admission, including the full schedule and regulations.

No parent can claim ignorance of these rules.

For the smooth functioning of the school, compliance with the following rules is mandatory for all, these are not all rules, just some ground rules not

- Children must arrive at school on time
- Entry must be through the designated gate only
- Examination and classwork notebooks must be sent regularly
- Children must wear complete and proper school uniform
- Homework must be completed on time

- School fees must be paid on time
- All rules explained at the time of admission and mentioned on the website must be followed

These rules ensure a safe, peaceful, and academically healthy environment in the school. However, it is regrettable that some parents repeatedly ignore these rules. Children arrive late to school, fees are submitted late, and when these issues are addressed, instead of accepting their mistake, some parents come to the school and behave rudely with teachers or staff.

It is very important to understand that accepting one's mistake is not a weakness, but a sign of wisdom. There may be reasons for arriving late, but accepting responsibility calmly sets a positive example for children. On the other hand, shouting, arguing, or behaving disrespectfully not only disturbs the school environment but also teaches children the wrong lessons. Often, such parents later realize themselves that this kind of behaviour does not solve problems; instead, it makes them worse.

A school is a place where children are taught discipline, respect, and responsibility. When parents also cooperate with the school with patience and understanding, children naturally develop good habits. However, when rules are taken lightly and mistakes are not accepted, the school system is affected and children become confused. In such situations, the school is compelled to take necessary administrative steps to maintain order.

Discipline is what makes a school strong and successful. It helps children progress academically and prepares them for life. A disciplined school produces students who are not only good learners but also good human beings.

Therefore, parents who are unable or unwilling to comply with school rules are hereby clearly requested to submit an application for withdrawal of their child by 28 February 2026 at the school office. No application will be accepted after this date. Parents wishing to obtain a Transfer Certificate (TC) must also apply by the same deadline. This decision is not meant to threaten anyone, but solely to maintain a peaceful, organized, and disciplined school environment.

Let us place our children's education, discipline, and future above convenience, and work together with the school to create the right environment for their growth.
