Install a drive in the enclosure

Warning! Drives should be handled carefully, especially when you transport them. If you're not careful with your drives, you may experience lost or corrupted data. Make sure that you're properly grounded by wearing an anti-static strap when you install any computer component. If an anti-static strap isn't available, touch a large, grounded metal surface for several seconds to discharge any built-up static electricity.

1. If the cover plate is installed, use a screwdriver (not provided) to remove the Housing assembly screws from the end of the enclosure and take off the cover plate.
2. Carefully pull the circuit board out of the enclosure.
3. Gently slide the connector on your drive into the corresponding connectors on the circuit board.
4. Use the drive-mounting screws to attach the drive to the circuit board.
5. Carefully slide the circuit board back into the enclosure.
6. Replace the cover plate on the enclosure, insert the Housing assembly screws, and tighten them in place.
7. Connect one of the provided USB Micro-B cables to the USB 3.1 Micro-B port on the enclosure and your computer.

Install the enclosure into a drive bay

If you're installing the enclosure into a StarTech.com S251BU31REM drive bay, complete the following:

- After you install a drive bay in your computer, carefully slide the drive enclosure into the slot on the front of the drive bay.

To remove the drive enclosure, press the eject button on the drive bay and pull out the enclosure.

About the LED indicators

The enclosure features a green Power LED and a red Activity LED.

LED behavior	Significance
The Power LED is illuminated	The enclosure is receiving power
The Activity LED is blinking	Drive is being accessed

FCC Compliance Statement

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation. Changes or modifications not expressly approved by StarTech.com could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

Industry Canada Statement

This Class B digital apparatus complies with Canadian ICES-003.
Cet appareil numérique de la classe [B] est conforme à la norme NMB-003 du Canada.
